

21 DAYS OF CHINESE NEW YEAR

February 9
26th day of the twelfth month

Women & children buy New Year wood-block prints from temporary stalls.

The Flower Fairs begin selling holiday flowers including plum blossoms, narcissus, camellia, evergreens and red azaleas.

Oranges and tangerines fill street-side stalls along with lunar calendars and almanacs.

Whole roasted pigs are displayed in restaurant windows and grocery stores sell candied fruit, lotus nuts and melon seed for the traditional eight-sided 'Trays of Togetherness.'
